

Y1 Phonics

LO: long vowel sounds – ee

This half-term, we're going to be revisiting all the long vowel sounds: a (ai), e (ee), i (eye), o (oh), u (you).

This week, we're focusing on the ee phoneme and the different graphemes that make the sound (ee, ea, ey, e_e, y).

In this lesson, I'd like you to look at the pictures and write the matching word using the correct ee grapheme. I've done a few for you already.

ee		ea		ey		e-e		y

			bead						spooky
	weed
							Chinese

As an extra challenge write three sentences in your books which use some of these words or some other words containing the ee phoneme.
