

Reading – Scott – 07.05.20

This is our final lesson on Robert Falcon Scott. I'd like you to have a look at the following webpage and watch the videos on the site.

<https://www.rmg.co.uk/see-do/we-recommend/attractions/relics-from-captain-scotts-antarctic-expedition>

Hopefully, the page has made the learning about Scott more real and given a greater understanding of what it must have been like for Scott and his team.

I'd like you to discuss this week's learning with an adult (if possible) and think about:

1. Some questions which you would like to ask Scott.
2. If these types of expeditions were worth the effort, money, time, loss of life?
3. The importance of history and museums in helping us to remember significant people and events.
